

L. Martin Capuder
Brief Biography

L. Martin Capuder, MBA, CPA, CHTI, CFE, CAMS, CIA, CISA, CCSK, AWS-CCP, CSCP is as vocal advocate for the importance of cybersecurity – especially for critical infrastructure protection and resilience and for reducing global security threats.

He is an officer of the Global Trafficking Information Sharing and Analysis Organization; the GT ISAO aims to optimize efforts of various stakeholders - law enforcement, NGOs, academia, governments the private sector and the public – in combatting human and wildlife trafficking. Currently, the GT ISAO is working to lower Florida from being the #3 state in volume of human trafficking.

L. Martin also manages ConsultantC, which provides custom training development, technical subject matter expertise, professional certification training preparation and other consulting for solutions and implementations.

He has 35 years of cybersecurity, auditing, consulting and training experience, including 20 years overseas, has spoken to professional organizations and conferences around the world and has published dozens of professional journal articles.